Concert Party News

The Concert Party has continued to meet each Monday evening with varying attendance numbers, influenced somewhat by the cooler weather and other factors including dance practices for the Goulburn Sesquicentenary Railway Ball.

With regards to the latter, 20 musicians are to perform at Goulburn on 25 May 2019, a large percentage of which is represented by Concert Party members.

The BMC Concert Party has members in many bush bands. One of the original intentions for creating the Concert Party by the Bush Music Club was to encourage other bush bands to be formed and perform both in public and at BMC events such as the Beecroft Dance. This objective has been achieved over the years and continues today.

Welcome to winter, well almost, and to be sure you stay warm come along to the Beecroft Bush Dance on the 1st Saturday of the month - see the BMC calendar for more information.

Bush Traditions' Bundanoon DanceFest is on again and will be held on 7-10th June 2019. This is a weekend of dance, dance, dance to live music so if this appeals to you be sure to check out their website for more information.

Duke's Place is held on the 2nd Friday of the month and presents an excellent, intimate concert with an Australian theme. The next concert is on Friday 14th June with Clark Gormley/Nerds & Music. Nerds & Music consists of two cyborgs (Clark Gormley and Wayne Thompson) assembled by some deranged mechanic in his back shed in Newcastle – be sure to come along and find out what this is all about as it promises to be an excellent evening.

Finally, the Goulburn Railway Sesquicentenary Ball was held on Saturday, 25th May with over 100 people in attendance, including NSW's new governor, Her Excellency the Honourable Margaret Beazley AO QC and her husband, Dennis Wilson. It was a wonderful evening with magical music provided by the Heritage Ensemble under the baton of Dave Johnson. Thank you to everyone involved in creating this amazing evening. It was truly a night to remember.

Worth Noting

One of our members, Michaela Simoni, along with Shirley Jenkins and Dona Samson Zappone, is having an Art Exhibition called Peacock Princesses at Merrylands RSL, 8-12 Miller St, Merrylands. It opens on 4th June and the Duck River Band will be playing at the opening.

The James Maddison Carpenter Collection of traditional folk songs and drama (1928 – 1935) is going on line from August this year. Carpenter was a post grad at Harvard (shades of Frances James Child of Child ballad fame) who took a recording device to England and Scotland collecting folk songs and mummings plays among other things.

Poet's Corner

Hugs

It's wondrous what a hug can do,
A hug can warm you when you're blue.
A hug can say, 'I love you so'
Or, 'Gee, I hate to see you go!'

*It costs you nothing, you'll be surprised
The love it brings to sad blue eyes.
It's no secret, I tell you true
A hug can mean the world to you.*

A hug is 'Welcome back again'
And 'Great to see you! Glad you came!'
A hug can soothe a small child's pain
And bring a rainbow after rain.

*The love it brings, beyond compare
You know at once you're welcome there.
It says a lot, without a word
Just try it out, you'll be assured.*

A Hug! There's just no doubt about it,
We scarcely could survive without it.
A hug delights and warms and charms;
It must be why God gave us arms.

*Practise it day by day, and
Watch your cares all fade away.
Try it soon; you'll find it's true
A hug will mean the world to you.*

Hugs are great for dads and mothers,
Great for sisters and for brothers.
Chances are your favourite aunts
Love them more than potted plants.

*It's all been said; I've said it twice
So have a hug, it feels quite nice.
When you're down and feeling low
Come on, get up, give it a go.*

Never fret about your store of 'em,
The more you give, the more there is of
'em!
Stretch out your arms without delay
And give someone a hug, today.

*I'll bet you're feeling better now
A hug can do it just somehow.
I'll close now with the words I'll pray
And save it for another day.*

Australian Songs
in Concert & session

Friday 14th June - Clark Gormley/Nerds & Music

Nerds & Music consists of two cyborgs (Clark Gormley and Wayne Thompson) assembled by some deranged mechanic in his back shed in Newcastle. The Nerds, whose repertoire extends from sea shanties about the National Broadband Network to country rock anthems about lawnmowing, are renowned for their wordy witty songs. They will be featuring all the hits from their newest and soon to be critically acclaimed album You Can't Polish a Nerd. Audiences have been rendered dumbstruck by their weirdness, witticisms, wordplay, and alliteration. <https://www.clarkgormley.com/>

Friday 12th July - Derek Dowding - Singer, songwriter, agitator

A songwriter with a difference, Derek excels as a quirky wordsmith possessing an acute wit and an eye for the overtly absurd and unjust. Irreverent. Ironic. Cognizant. Sardonic. With a catalogue of 180+ original songs, Derek presents a novel selection ranging from satirical pieces crammed with cutting social commentary and off-beat humour as well as lilting tunes accompanying thoughtful, illustrative poetry.

Pennant Hills Dance Activities

Pennant Hills Community Centre: (lower, air-conditioned hall)

During May we practiced the dances on the programs of the Gosford Jane Austen dance and the Goulburn BMC Railway Ball. David Potter taught the dances for the Jane Austen event and Wendy Richmond for the Railway Ball. Our thanks to both for their time and expertise.

In June we will be holding the annual dance workshop birthday party and practicing for both the Beecroft and Gosford July dances. The Beecroft dance will feature the World Famous Barangaroo Bush Band while the Gosford dance will feature some of the dances on the Gosford Flannel Flower Spring Ball program. There is also a public holiday in June. A workshop will not be held on this night but look out for a full weekend of dancing in Bundanoon.

In July we will be practicing the dances for the August Beecroft dance. Currawong Bush Band will be playing so a great night is guaranteed.

In August there will be two practice nights for the New Sydney Ball. The last workshop in August and the first in September will be dedicated to waltz and rotary chasses practice.

Plenty of dancing at Pennant Hills, so see you there!

Flash Jack From Gundagai

I've shored at Burrabogie, and I've shored at Toganmain,
I've shored at big Willandra, and upon the old Coleraine,
But before the shearin' was over I wished myself back again
Shearin' for old Tom Patterson, on the One Tree Plain.

Chorus:

All among the wool, boys, all among the wool,
Keep your wide blades full, boys, keep your wide blades full,
I can do a respectable tally myself whenever I like to try,
But they know me round the back blocks as Flash Jack from Gundagai.

I've shored at big Willandra and I've shored at Tilberoo,
And once I drew my blades, my boys, upon the famed Barcoo,
At Cowan Downs and Trida, as far as Moulamein,
But I always was glad to get back again to the One Tree Plain.

I've pinked 'em with the Wolseleys, and I've rushed with B-bows too,
And shaved 'em in the grease, my boys, with the grass seed showin' through.
But I never slummed my pen, my lads, whatever it might contain,
While shearin' for old Tom Patterson on the One Tree Plain.

I've been whalin' up the Lachlan, and I've dossed on Cooper's Creek,
And once I rung Cudjingle shed, and blued it in a week,
But when Gabriel blows his trumpet, lads, I'll catch the morning train,
And I'll push for old Tom Patterson's on the One Tree Plain.

This song was printed in Paterson's Old Bush Songs, and also published (without attribution) in The Land, 4 July 1930.

<https://trove.nla.gov.au/newspaper/article/103051007>

There are several minor variants to the above, including one in which the repeat of big Willandra in the second verse is changed to Gooriananwa.

According to one source, Flash Jack was a bushranger by the name of Jack Molloy who was nicknamed "Jack in the Boots". There was certainly such a person, captured in 1861 in the Gundagai police district, but no indication of his ever being a shearer.

SINGABOUT

JUNE 2019

DON'T BE TOO POLITE GIRLS

Is it a parody or a song using a traditional tune?

Many readers will know the shearer's song Flash Jack from Gundagai, in a small book of Songs of the Shearer which I put together from BMC Singabout songsters, to be sold at the Royal Easter Show when the Concert Party sang at a shearing demonstration using a steam driven machine. The introduction sounds jingoistic, but was directed against too much influence from USA in our culture, in that period of late 1960-70s.

Originally published in Singabout Vol 5, No 4, p10 it was noted that although we were uncertain who was 'Flash Jack' the identity of hungry Patterson or 'Old Tom Patterson' as Banjo Paterson knew him was T.F.Patterson who took up 'Ulonga Station' in 1871. He eventually owned 300,000 acres with a long frontage to the Lachlan River near Booligal. To the south, covering the One Tree Plain, it stretched half way to the Murrumbidgee River. The reference to the Wolseley shearing machine, first introduced in 1888 and 1893, when the Bank of Australasia became the owners of Ulonga, places the song around this time.

The well known chorus goes: All among the wool, boys, keep your blades full boys, I can do a respectable tally myself whenever I like to try, But they know me round the backblocks as Flash Jack from Gundagai. The verses are written in the first person and tell of all the places where the shearer has shorn. It is a work song describing the experiences of a shearer.

Glen Tomasetti used the traditional tune of 'Flash Jack', when she wrote the song to commemorate the High Court decision to hand down equal pay in 1969. I think it is a clever parody using a tune identified with men's work and paralleling women's work experiences. Glen was a fine singer songwriter, an assured and authoritative performer with considerable understanding of the cultural and historical aspects of Folk Music. She always spoke her mind. She held the opinion that, as Australians we had a responsibility to sound like Australians and would take people to task on this point. She wrote the words Don't Be Too Polite, Girls as a song about women's pay and work conditions. It became the equal pay anthem many women sang with the conviction that comes from the shared experience.

She was also a writer with passion and a strong understanding of women's struggles throughout Australian history. During the 1960s-70s Glen sang in various folk music venues in Melbourne and taught guitar accompaniment classes in a room above Traynors coffee lounge. Glen was a rebel against her background and the times. At this time Glen organised recording sessions, radio programs & theme concerts. She made the front page of a daily paper for withholding 6% of her tax as equivalent to the amount being spent on the war by Harold Holt's government.

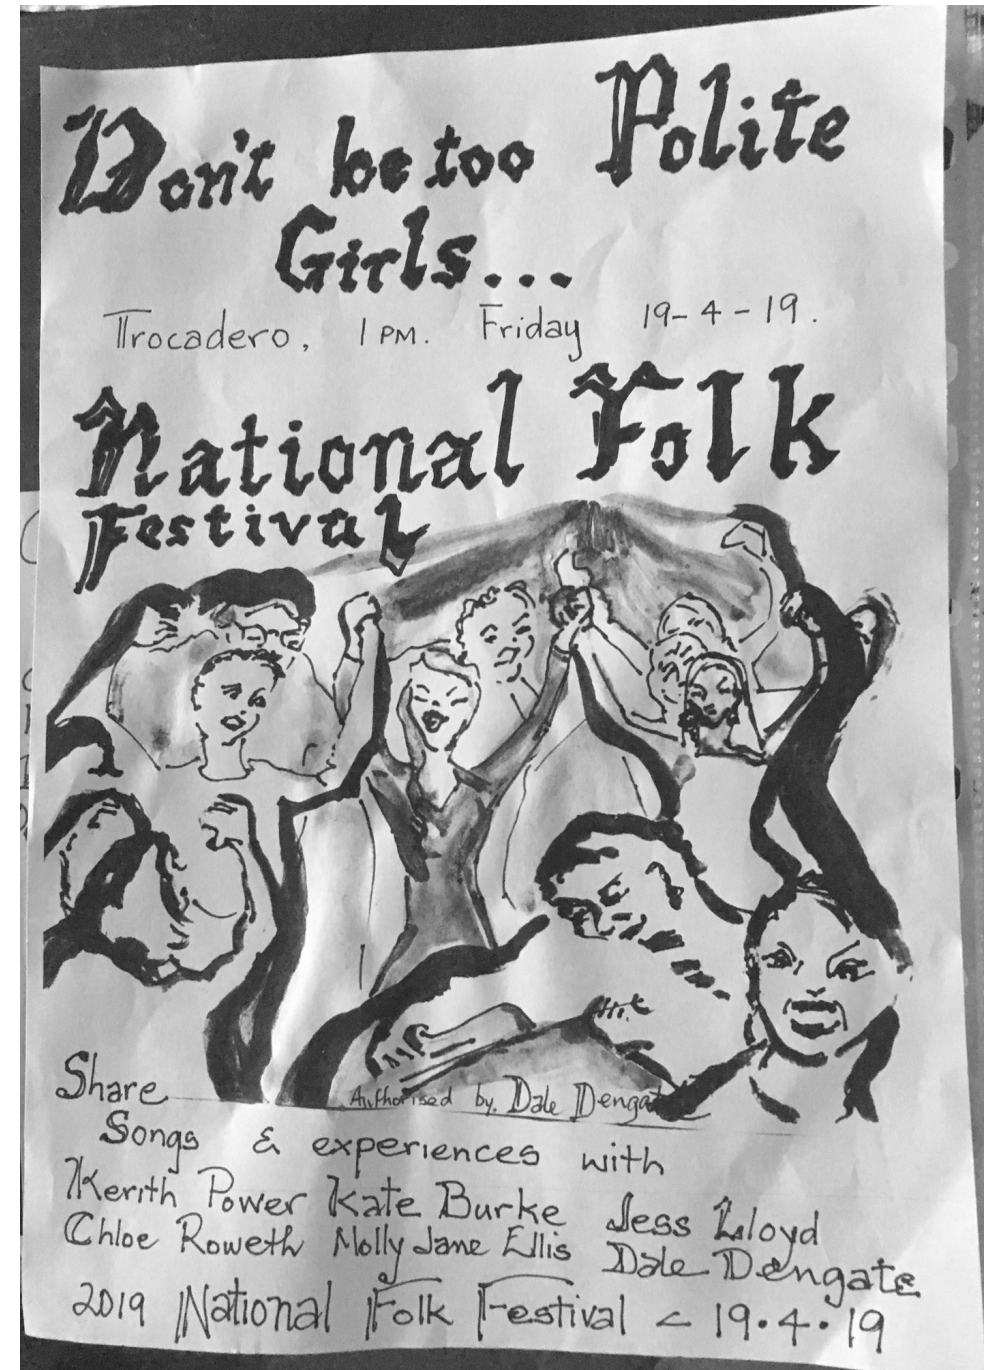

With the American war in Vietnam came the organisation SAVE OUR SONS in which Glen played a major role. She helped organise the biggest folk concert of all at that time, a Peace Concert at the Myer Music Bowl. Singers came from Sydney and eventually the idea for festivals and touring groups began.

Glen was in the forefront of the Folk revival in Australia. She was a great humanist and a great encourager. Apart from her abilities as a singer, collector and historian she was a strong anti-war activist and a life long supporter of the women's movement.

Don't be Too Polite, Girls it is still sung with gusto when women gather to sing protest songs as the message is still relevant.

I organised a themed concert at the National Folk Festival, Easter 2019 to commemorate fifty years since the song was written and the first concerts in Port Phillip, Melbourne which became the National Folk Festival.
