President's Report

We had a good turnout to the end of year Christmas celebrations at Hut 44. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves and there was plenty of food available. John Short thanked the Concert Party for providing the music at the Pennant Hills dance workshop Christmas gathering held the previous week. Thanks must be said to everyone that has participated in making this a great year for the club. We gained a number of new members and created some wonderful memories.

This year started on New Year's Day for the club with what was planned to be a low key event for those recovering from a late night the previous day. We had 19 hardy souls arrive to sing, dance and play tunes and enjoy each other's company.

If the attendance at our first regular meeting night is anything to go by, this year promises to be an exciting one for the club. I look forward to seeing everyone at one or more of the activities we have planned.

Sadly, we lost several members of the club and folk scene at the end of last year.

Alex Hood (27/11/2025), Frank Maher (10/12/2025), Bill Hauritz (8/12/25),

Bob Bellini (12/25), Ted Egan (4/12/25), Nigel Lever (3/12/25)

Vale and thank you for the music.

Illawarra Folk Festival Review

The BMC was accepted to participate in the Illawarra FF held over 16-18th January 2026. We had three programmed sessions, plus an additional session as part of the folk school conducted by the IFF.

Folk School

With our folk school session scheduled to commence at 9am on Friday, a number of BMC members elected to set up tent/ van/ etc the previous afternoon at the Bulli showground. At that point in time I have to say that there had been a light sprinkle of rain, but nothing to indicate things might change.

Attendance at the folk school was a little down on that of the previous year (in fact attendances in general at the festival proved to be down on those of the past year), but there was a high level of participation from all. After starting with an obligatory scale, we launched into a few waltzes, before migrating on to polkas and jigs.

We used the same instruction booklet that Ralph Pride had put together for use the previous year, as this had proved to be a great success. The booklet includes a variety of different tune tempos, songs and even has dance instructions; the aim of the booklet was to show how all the different aspects of folk are pulled together. Perhaps next time, we might even include a poem...

At the end of our time, all participants came away hopefully a bit wiser as to how everything fits together in the scheme of things.

Festival

On our return to the festival grounds from the folk school, the weather was still fine, however Hanrahan (Wayne Steele) was predicting gloom ahead. We held our first session for the IFF at the session tent tipi (all our sessions were held here). It was lucky that a recce had been done earlier, as the lighting was atrocious and no seating was to be found; that was partially corrected by the time our session commenced. It was pleasing to see a high level of participation by BMC members.

By prior agreement amongst ourselves we elected to make this a singing session - using Blue Song Book 1 as our reference. Collectively we managed to raise enough volume to attract a few other inquisitive people to come and join us. Overall, we did well, with the exception of one song randomly chosen without thought by one of our members. We had a few hiccoughs but eventually got through it - I knew there was a reason for not practicing that song the previous Monday!

No sooner were we back at camp celebrating our successes than the rain came that night - and continued to come. We elected to have an early night, after an impromptu jam session under Wayne and Wendy's gazebo, hoping that tomorrow would be a new day. Friday dawned, but the rain didn't stop - if anything it grew heavier. At least one gazebo beside us succumbed to the weather.

Wayne Steele was proud of his gazebo erection - "still standing after a night of strong winds", he told everyone! Last year he had not been so lucky and as a consequence didn't bother to take his gazebo home with him.

In spite, or should I say despite the rain, the remaining two sessions (playing tunes from Session Book 1) went off without any problems. We had good attendances at both sessions. Wayne said to me afterwards that the only let down for him was getting a puncture on the way home.

Now to work out what to do to make our shelters more wind/rainproof for next year....

SINGABOUT

Moby Dork

The Great Orange Whale

Lyrics: Hølie Tannensdóttir

Tune: The Greenland Whale Fisheries, traditional Scottish whaling song

I.

In the year two thousand twenty-six
On a freezing January day
Thirteen dog sleds from Denmark did arrive
To save Greenland from the USA, brave boys,
To save Greenland from the USA.

Our Captain stood on his snowmobile
With an iGlass and a flagpole
“There’s a whale, there’s a whale, there’s a bloody orange whale,”
“And he leaks at every hole, brave boys
And he leaks at every hole.”

‘Twas Moby Dork, the great orange whale
Spewing garbage from his spout
“If I can’t buy you, I’ll tariff you to death
And laugh as I wipe you out, commie boys,
I will laugh as I wipe you out.”

Norway’s prime minister stood on a sleigh
Guzzling narwhal grease
“You attack your own citizens and sovereign states
And expect a prize for peace?” he guffawed,
“Will wonders never cease?”

II.

“Oh I need an island,” blubbered Moby Dork
“Where my friends can sport and play
With those sweet young teens, and those younger in-betweens
Who massage us night and day(wink wink)
Who massage us night and day.

“Oh to lose this green island I love so well
‘Twould grieve my heart full sore
But for folks to read them dadgum pedo-files
‘Twould grieve me ten times more, naughty boys,
‘Twould grieve me ten times more,

“Call me Fishmeal,” said J D Vance
With his face in a frozen smile
“Play along, play along, play along with him,” he cried
“He’ll be dead in a very little while, me boys,
He’ll be dead in a little while.”

III.

We assailed that whale with our iHarpoons
Till the whale gave a flunder with his tail
And the Dow Jones crashed, four senators resigned,
And we nuked that bloody whale, brave boys
And we nuked that orange whale.

“Moby Dork doth sink,” our Captain cried,
“To the darkest pits of hell!
To garner support for Greenland sovereignty
Delights my heart full well, brave boys
Delights my heart full well.”

Oh, Greenland is cheerful again today
Though it's white instead of green
Where there's ice cream and snow and the whale fishes blow
And the Yanks are no more seen, brave boys
And the Yanks are nevermore seen.

iGlass: an Apple spyglass

And for the musicians, just to remind ourselves that tunes in $\frac{3}{4}$ are not always waltzes.
